A. Q. Howell Talks To Junior C of C

Mr. A. Q. Howell was guest speaker at the Belle Glade Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting March 18. He was introduced by Dan Beardsley, a member of the School Committee.

Mr. Howell, serving his second term on the school board, spoke on the Minimum Foundation Program in our school system, explaining its purpose is to give every child in the state the same opportunity for an education and to unify the school system.

Prior to 1947, when the Minimum Foundation Program was approved and made law, each county had their own system and their own standards. Florida then ranked 32nd in the education field. Today it is ranked 34th.

State money for education is appropriated on the basis of average daily attendance. In 1947 Glades County had 330 school children and 46,300. It cost Glades County $205 per pupil per year as against $154 for Dade County. The smaller counties found it hard to meet this obligation.

Mr. Howell told the Jaycees that under the Minimum Foundation Program a school board member receives a salary of $50 to $200 per month; that we now have no school trustees as we once did.

The speaker criticized the present practice of "continual contract." After a teacher has been appointed for four consecutive years the school enters into continual contract with the teacher and can't break the contract unless proved uneducational or immoral. Yet the teacher may quit at any time. Mr. Howell's contention is that this is not really a contract since it is not binding to the teacher.

Fifty percent of teachers' salaries are paid from state funds. Prior to the Minimum (Continued on Page Four)

The first attempt to test the hearing of children was made last year when through the efforts of Mrs. Ruth Timmons, a past director, the sorority sponsored the project in this area that has been undertaken in the Palm Beach area through the efforts of the Junior League.

As a result of adopting this project members of the sorority were trained in the use of the audiometer by members of the Junior League. The machine in use this year was obtained from the Palm Beach County Health Department. Three persons are necessary to conduct each test, one to register the child, one to record results, and one to operate the audiometer. Approximately three to five minutes is used for each child. Last year children in these schools were tested from the 1st to the 6th grades, approximately 400 taking almost three weeks of work by members of the sorority.

Commencing this year, only third graders are being tested and those from the 4th through the 6th grades who have not previously been tested.

Any child failing to fall within a normal range is re-tested within a few days for possible failure to record results correctly, and if still found below normal, a written notice is sent to the parents urging them to take the child to an ear specialist for further checking.

No attempt is made by the working team to analyze the child's chart — it is just an effort on the part of a civic minded organization to catch defects in hearing in children with the hope that the parents will follow the suggestion to take the

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TONITE AND SAT.

"George Washington Slept Here" Is Entertaining High School Play

Miss Barbara Spark, speech instructor, is leading a group of High School students in a reproduction of the George Kaufman-Moss Hart Comedy at the Auditorium tonight and Saturday night.

This play spoofs the hopeful city-dwellers dreams of returning to the old-fashioned family joys by "taking a little place in the country".

Newton Fuller buys a broken-down farmhouse—one of those old stone houses that go back to Revolutionary Days in Bucks County, Pa. Cows and horses in the kitchen, the walls and floors are falling in and water has to be carried up from a distant brook.

What with Japanese beetles, and seventeen-year locusts, the noise attending the drilling of a well, a belligerent neighbor, and visiting relatives, the Fuller family discovers that getting away from it all in the country isn't quite the Utopia they had been led to expect.

As the bewildered Newton Fuller, Gene Pope will be playing the role created by Ernest Truax in New York. Joanne Holladay will be seen as Fuller's pessimistic wife, and Jeanie Royals as their daughter, who thinks she's in love with a summer theatre actor. Jimmie Robinson will play the wealthy Ervin McTaggart will portray Raymond, a malevolent mope.

Others in the play will include: Mr. Kimber — Mickey Herring Steve Eldridge — Johnny Schlecter

Katie — Geraldine Bailey Mrs. Douglas — Winifred Burry Clayton Evans — Lavin Bas Sue Barrington — Cherry Corbin Miss Wilcox — Montine Doolittle Mr. Prescott — Joel Parker

Two Young Men Killed in Car Accident Here

Two young men were instantly killed Saturday morning at approximately 3:25 o'clock when the car skidded on the wet pavement just west of Bean City on SR No. 80 and out of control, wrapped itself around a pine tree, in such a manner that the headlights were wedged under the rear bumper.

They were the driver, George Hugh McDaniels, age 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. McDaniels of Columbus, Ga., and Wade Raymond Driggers, age 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Driggers of 2617 Nokomis Ave., West Palm Beach.

The two young men had been in Belle Glade about a week and had a room in the home of Mrs. Zelma Betner. They were employed by Western Electric at work for the local Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Coroner Joe Cherry released the bodies to the Western Glades Funeral Home as soon as they could be extricated from the wrecked car. It took the combined efforts of the peace officers and wrecking company approximately an hour and a half to rip the car apart sufficiently to release the bodies of the two young men.

America The Beautiful By Audubon Society

"America The Beautiful," fifth and final lecture in the season's Audubon Screen Tours at the Society of the Four Arts in Palm Beach is a travelogue covering 50,000 miles of North America. The film is the joint works of Tom and Arlene Hadley of Detroit, Mich., and will be held Thursday evening, April 1, at 8:30 o'clock.

The Tours are presented by the Audubon Society of the Everglades, Capt. Benj. Biggs of Jupiter, President, and aids the National Audubon Society in its conservation work. Tickets for its conservation work. Tickets may be obtained at the door or from either of the two Chambers of Commerce.

This fifth tour covers both wildlife and natural scenic glories of the continent from Vancouver, B. C., through the Black Hills with its giant sculptures of great Americans, through the Rockies, covers the Great Plains, dropping down the great Mississippi and even dips into Florida to Key West.

The Hadleys will speak to a group of school pupils on Thursday afternoon calling that lecture "Happy Valley". This film pictures a canoe trek down the Tahquamenon River in Michigan and through the Hiawatha country, includes mountain hikes to the Lake of Clouds in the Porcupine Mountains and other interesting spots of natural beauty.

TEACHERS TO SUGGEST ACCIDENT PREVENTION

Last year there were nearly 150 children from the ages of five to 15 killed in accidents in Florida. Somebody ought to watch over these children. The blame is somewhere. We realize that the school teachers look after the children many hours during the school period and are constantly inculcating safety habits to them. We are calling on the teachers to help us formulate a program "How to save children from accidents, injuries and death."

Having received many suggestions about safety of children from teachers, we are offering a prize of $50.00 to the teacher that sends us the best suggestion that will help save children's lives.

The Bureau of Vital Statistics records show that there are 50,000 more children in Florida than there are deaths. To keep these youngsters alive is everybody's job. You can't depend entirely on the teachers, concluded Asher Frank, Director of the Florida Safety Council.

Senator John C. Stennis, of Mississippi, will be interviewed this week by Senator George Smathers in the Florida Senate's radio report to be heard over WSWN at 3:15 on Wednesday, March 31.

On the program, the two senators will exchange views on the current issue before the senate-statehood for Hawaii and Alaska. Smathers also will ask Senator Stennis to explain the current U. S. situation with regard to limited participation in the Indo-China war.

Both Senators Smathers and Stennis are opposing the bills to make Hawaii and Alaska the 49th and 50th states. The two issues were linked in a 40-40 senate vote the other day when the Smathers-Led opposition scored the first victory in this close floor fight.

Senator Stennis, a member of the armed services committee, is a former legislator, prosecutor, and judge in Mississippi and is a frequent visitor to Florida. He recently criticized the Administration's sending 250 Air Force technicians to aid the French in their fight against the Communists in Indo-China because, he said, it was taking an unwarranted war risk.

The radio program, another in the weekly series by Smathers, will be broadcast as a public service by the station management.

So many American citizens have never lived so well before—or so many so far behind.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

A friend from Florida wrote to ask why I was spending so much time and energy in the fight it has fallen my lot to lead against the Hawaii and Alaska statehood bills.

"They are so far away from Florida," said the letter, "I don't think your efforts will mean much to the people down here."

My correspondent was reminded that many people do appear to be aware of how much this means to them, and how irreversibly the statehood step, if taken, will bind these far off places to Florida and other states. The remoteness of these territories is a main issue, and the decision we face is whether the local boundaries to our union.

Since this fight started, more and more people appear to be re-examining the issue, from Florida and throughout the country come increasingly numerous messages to continue the fight. Resistance in the Senate, which first appeared hopeless, no longer is so. One of the encouraging signs appeared when the nationally syndicated columnist Walter Lippmann wrote what we have been saying for months:

"We must remember... Statehood is an irreversible act... once done, it cannot be undone... a state cannot secede... admission of outlying territories... would mean a radical change in the structure of the Union and our external relations... such a change should be done when the people are listening and have their eyes open... what must be questioned is whether (our) interests are so nearly identical that they can be used in the same legislative body."

Short Talks From the Senate Floor: Getting help from Senator George in efforts to repeal travel tax in Florida and to Latin America where some countries pay, some don't. Have introduced bills to establish new national cemetery in Florida; encourage a record vocational influx to Florida ("See America First Week" in June).

ARE YOU AN INVENTOR? IF SO HERE'S A CHANCE

Intended to show the genius of Florida and its wealth of manufacturing possibilities, the TIES Association will hold an inventors and hobby show in Electricians Auditorium 22nd Avenue, March 22 through the 27th.

Contracts for space are being signed and already a considerable number of impressive exhibits is insured. The object of the show is not to make a profit but to give inventors a chance to show to the public and to prospective investors and buyers the items and articles that either are being made in this area or that can be made here.

The spacious exhibition hall is being divided into booths and tables, so that small exhibits of models may be displayed without material expense.

Dr. E. E. Naime, president of TIES, (a word made from the initial letters of the words Technologists, Industrialists, Economists and Scientists) says that a TIES survey shows Florida is rich in inventive genius. Many hundreds of patents are applied for in this area each year, Dr. Naime said, while an unusually high percentage are granted letters patent.

Many of these patents now are on articles being manufactured and returning profits to both inventor and manufacturer.

This may be your opportunity to take your invention off the shelf and get it financed and marketed.

"If you have a model of an invention, enter it in our coming show, where it may be seen and where it may be sold for sound investment," said Dr. Naime.

Many inventions cover what are termed hobbies and gadgets.

These are things that fill an important niche in most of our lives. Bring them to the show and let the people see them. Full information will be given, either by mail or telephone. TIME IS SHORT and good space will not be available much longer. TIES address is as follows: TIES Association, 213 N. E. 2nd Ave., Room 210, Miami, Florida.

LATIN CONFERENCE. AIR ACCADEMY TALK BY SMATHERS

Senator George Smathers will discuss Florida's hopes for gaining the role of U. S. Air Academy in his radio report this week from the Nation's capital. The Florida senator will also discuss the Inter-American Conference now underway at Caracas, Venezuela, and its importance to the nation.

Both subjects will be treated in an interview recorded at Washington and scheduled for broadcast here over WSWN at Belle Glade.

The 10 minute program is being made available to the local radio audience as a public service by the station's management.

Senator Smathers last year offered a bill to create an Air Academy to be located in Florida. The House has passed and the Senate now has before it such a bill, which has been approved by the Senate Armed Services committee. But the measure leaves to the Secretary of Air the responsibility for selecting a site.

The Latin American conference opened on March 1, with the U. S. represented by a delegation headed by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Senator Smathers has been urging closer trade, diplomatic and cultural ties between the U. S. and the "Good Neighbor" countries to the South, charging that for years there has been preoccupation with Europe and Asia to our country's detriment.

OUT-OF-STATE AUTOS BRINGING LOTS OF FOLKS

Southbound, out-of-state passenger automobiles entering Florida ran up a total of 2,384, 910 last year.

This total for the calendar year 1953 was more by 2 percent than during 1952, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported recently.

"One-day border traffic, which has increased appreciably in recent years, accounted for approximately 27 percent of this year's total. Examining this traffic, the number of out-of-state passenger cars entering the State last year would be adjusted to 1,749,264.

This week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial divisions reports further breakdown of the total. Some 30 percent of the cars which remained in the State more than one day were business cars and totaled 522,076. The balance, or 1,218,178 cars, brought tourists.

The average tourist passenger automobile last year carried 2.3 persons per car. Thus 2,802,000 tourists came to Florida by car last year. Business cars, which averaged 4.1 persons per car, brought 574,284 persons.

There weren't very many activities carried out last week by our organization due to the six weeks examinations scheduled. However, two field trips were made: one by the tenth grade class and the other by one section of the 9th grade class.

The former class made a study of the insects that affected vegetables during the recent warm days. Aphids (small green flies) seem to affect tender vegetables when warm weather sets in. The members of this class observed the aphids and studied ways and means of destroying them.

The latter class has a project of growing out and fattening a pig and conditioning it to use in furnishing meat for our annual banquet in April. The concentrates (Grains and Grain by-products) and green feed needed in preparing a balance ration for this pig were studied by this class.

THE UNITED STATES POLL

Public Regards Stricter Law Enforcement, Cutting Down Speeding, Raising Age Limits As Way To Reduce Auto Accident Toll
By Kenneth Fink, Director, Princeton Research Service

One of the most important problems facing the nation today is the reduction of the auto accident toll.

The importance of the problem was highlighted last month by President Eisenhower's accidents in the last 50 years than had been killed in all the years that the nation has engaged in since its founding.

In 1953, Mr. Eisenhower said, more than 38,000 people died as a result of auto accidents and more than 100,000 people were seriously injured.

The President further added that last year there were more than one million auto accidents in the nation.

Unquestionably, the problem of cutting auto accidents is one of the nation's most serious problems.

To determine what the American public to think can be done about the problem of auto accident reduction, the United States Poll this month asked a representative cross-section of the nation's adult citizens:

"What one suggestion do you have for cutting auto accidents in this state?"

Results of the survey show that three ways for cutting down auto accidents are uppermost on American people's minds at the present time:

1. Stricter law enforcement; stricter enforcement of traffic laws; better law enforcement.
2. Cutting down speeding; curb speeding; less speed; slow them up a bit.
3. Raising the age limits for drivers; raise license age; too many young people in accidents; raise driver age limits to 20 or 21.

Just about one out of every two people interviewed mentioned one of the above three. And each was named at least twice as often as any other single suggestion.

Next most important ways to reduce auto accidents, judging by the number of mentions are these:

4. People should drive more carefully; there's too much careless driving.
5. People should drive more slowly.
6. Reexamination of all drivers at periodic intervals.
7. The need for more traffic and highway police.
8. Drivers should be more courteous; need more courtesy on the road.
9. Better highways between all big cities.
10. Take old cars off the road; take all cars built before 1945 off the road.

More control of teen-age drivers; governors on all cars to cut down their speed; the need for consolidating all traffic regulations on a state and national basis, and compulsory auto insurance also received some mention.

Following are some typical comments that sum up the thinking of many of the nation's citizens:

There should be better highway supervision by the police. They should enforce the speed laws.

Make the age limit for drivers higher.

Make people drive slower.

There should be strict enforcement of existing laws.

Hurrying is what causes accidents. If people would give themselves a little more time to reach their destinations, there would be less accidents.

They should be a little more severe with violators.

Minors should not be allowed to drive recklessly.

There should be more rigid driving exams for licenses.

We need more traffic law enforcement officials.

SOUTHERN BELL'S

Beach County, it would have been difficult to determine just who received the 50,000th telephone.

Twenty years ago, the County had 7,825 telephones; it now has 50,477, or an increase of 538 percent. Approximately 12.6 telephones served every 100 people then. This figure has increased to 39.88 telephones per 100 population at the present time.

Telephone-wise Palm Beach County is one of the fastest growing sections of the nation. While it has taken the Bell System ten years to double its number of telephones, here in Palm Beach County we have more than doubled our telephones in seven years.

Following is a comparison by exchanges in the County showing telephones in service in 1934 and 1954:

1934 Exchange	1954 Exchange
6,250 West Palm B.	37,410
240 Lake Worth	6,485
122 Jupiter	2,865
57 Lake Park	1,792
37 Belle Glade	1,792
22 Boynton Beach	883
257 Delray Beach	1,571
478 Delray Beach	4,237

Telephone development engineers forecast more than 80,000 telephones will be in service by 1963, near 105,000 by 1973.

To keep these 50,000 or more telephones in good service, the Company employs 500 people, representing an annual payroll of nearly $1,700,000.

A large percentage of the gain in the past 20 years has been since the end of World War II. To meet this demand for service, the Company has spent $13,582,000 in Palm Beach County since 1946 for new telephone facilities, as part of a Florida-wide $100,000,000 construction program. Gross construction in Florida for 1954 will approximate $400,000.

A new telephone office now under construction at Riviera Beach will serve subscribers in the County areas north of West Palm Beach, as well as customers in the northern section of West Palm Beach. The new office will be cut in service at midnight on September 18, 1954. At this time all telephones in Lake Park, Riviera Beach, and north of 30th Street in West Palm Beach and north of Tanger Avenue in Palm Beach, will be cut in the new office.

Additional equipment will be installed this year in all nine of the Southern Bell Exchanges serving Palm Beach County. Incidentally, throughout the nation the average investment per individual residence line telephone in 1940 was $285. In 1953 the cost was more than $400.

Florida's placing an average of 81,337 long distance calls per day, it has become necessary to develop more long distance circuits. One of these new developments will become a reality to Palm Beach County this year with the establishment of a new micro wave system for transmitting telephonic and television signals. When the new microwave towers, placed at 30 mile intervals, between West Palm Beach, Orlando and Jacksonville are completed, they will handle a capacity of 3,000 simultaneous calls.

Bell Telephone Company Construction forces have begun work on a second coaxial cable equipped with a new type of amplifier or "booster", which will parallel the existing cable between West Palm Beach and Miami when installation is completed later this year.

The new amplifying equipment known as "L-3", was developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories. It can carry more television programs and long distance telephone conversations than older types of equipment. A pair of coaxial tubes fully equipped with L-3 can carry either 1,800 telephone conversations or 600 telephone conversations plus a television program in each direction. The new cable will contain eight such tubes. Cost of this project, about $12 million dollars.

Another service which may come to the County soon is urban mobile telephone service. This is a service whereby customers can have telephones in their automobiles. They can call or be called just as they would from their homes or offices. A recent survey indicates that there is considerable demand in the County for this service and it is likely that expansion in the radio-telephone field will start here soon.

"Many people ask me if all of this money for expansion from profits", Reddy said. "It does not, and we would like for the public to understand better where it does come from. Actually, profits and surplus which the entire Southern Bell has accumulated in its 75 year history would pay for about one-third of the construction program in the city of Miami since the end of the war. We have spent over $180,000,000 in Florida since 1946. We will spend over $40,000,000 in Florida this year.

This money does not come from profits or earnings. It comes from investors who buy Company stocks and bonds. It is only through money loaned to us (Bonds) or invested (Stocks) that we can construct new buildings, cables, switchboards, etc.

Without the financial aid of over a million and a quarter shareholders and thousands of bond holders, there would be practically no expansion. Without expansion, millions of people would not have telephones. The Bell System has spent over nine billion dollars since the war in construction. This money came from investors and not from earnings. It has resulted in about 20 million telephones being added, or about double the number in 1945. Since this money for expansion came from investors, it is apparent that millions of people would not have been able to get telephones except through the investments of other Americans. We can only attract these investments if the people believe in the integrity of our securities and receive adequate earnings, to way."

which they are entitled. Earnings, which are improving, have not been satisfactory for many years. Further improvement is not only prudent, but essential, for the telephone business must continue to grow and expand. I do not believe the American people would have it any other way."
